

Teaching Options For Homeschooling Middle School

Use the questions below to sort through which options would best serve your family.

Do you have 3-4 hours a day to attend your child's academic needs? Y N

Do you have the willingness to learn along with your student? Y N

Are you comfortable with computer technology? Y N

If so, do you have the time to oversee computer-based education? Y N

Will you be prepared to conform to the online public school's schedule? Y N

What public-school based computer options are available to you in your state?

What are their requirements of you? _____

Are you tech savvy enough to use an independent online program like Time 4 Learning, Skrafty, or Easy Peasy All in One Homeschool? Y N

Do you have the time to oversee your child's involvement on that platform? Y N

Are there academic or elective-oriented homeschool groups near you? Y N

Can you afford the fees for the classes you don't feel prepared to teach? Y N

If not, are there low-cost or free programs requiring only parent participation? Y N

If so, are willing/have the time to participate as asked? Y N

Does your state allow private tutors? Y N

Can you afford the fees or barter services with a tutor? Y N